Delivered projects:

Kensol.pl website

Website implemented with Next.js and deployed by me for company. Designed to provide a comprehensive user experience. In addition to product information, it offers practical tools such as a fault reporting system, first-time setup form, a heat pump configurator, and a contact form. The website is available in multiple languages to cater to a global audience.

Heat pump configurator

Created a tailored React-based tool for B2B clients to configure heating systems. Integrated user input forms with API, implemented logic for accurate product suggestions, and deployed using Vite and Bootstrap.

Content Management System for company blog (CMS)

Developed a CMS tool to manage posts and categories using React, TypeScript, Tailwind CSS, and Zustand. Integrated Editor.js for editing content, implemented custom PHP methods to handle database interactions, and ensured responsive design.
